SEA BATTLE IS IMPENDING TODAY

Engagement is Expected in North Sea—Sea Activity of Great Britain Now On

BRITONS SCORED FIRST BIG NAVAL VICTORY

Wilhelm Der Grosse Gave Good Account Before Being Sunk; British Trawlers Lost

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Another Anglo-German cruiser engagement in the North Sea is believed to be impending today. The Admiralty's announcement of the initial defeat of the Kaiser's naval forces yesterday is taken to mean that the British have at last set themselves to draw out and demolish the enemy.

British Scored Victory

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The first important naval action of the war was fought yesterday in Heligoland Bight, resulting in a smashing blow delivered by the British cruisers, destroyers and submarines against the German scouting squadron.

The net damage to the German fleet was two cruisers, one of these being the Mainz, and two destroyers sunk and one cruiser set afire and last seen in flight in a sinking condition. The flotilla cruiser was the Amethyst and one of the destroyers was the Laertes.

The officer in chief command of the British force was Rear Admiral Sir David Beatty, who married the daughter of Marshall Field of Chicago.

Wilhelm Der Grosse Did Damage

That the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse sunk several British ships before she herself was sunk by the British cruiser Haggard, was learned today. The Tubal Cain, the Kaipara and the Nyazani, all British, were the victims. Their crews were landed at Las Palmas, Canary Islands.

English Trawlers Blown Up

HULL, Eng., Aug. 29.—Two trawlers which were searching the North Sea for mines were blown up today and their crews lost.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION IS CHAFFEE'S

Edward Chaffee of Garden Grove won the Democratic nomination for assemblyman. He is a prohibitionist, and secured that nomination without opposition. For the Democratic nomination Chaffee got 162 votes. J. C. Burke, who got the Republican nomination, got 94.

Most of the justices of the peace and constables finished their fights at the primaries. In San Juan township the official count, completed at 1 o'clock this morning, shows T. Goodwin and John Combs tied for constable. Each got 93 votes. One vote was cast for W. O. English. That means that neither Goodwin nor Combs got a majority of the votes cast, and that the two are nominated and must run again in November. The vote by precincts was: San Juan—Combs, 44; Goodwin, 72; English, 1. El Toro—Combs, 25; Goodwin, 18. Trabuco—Combs, 24; Goodwin, 3.

Westminster

S. E. Chaffee was re-elected justice of Westminster township and J. M. Clark was re-elected constable. The vote on justice was: Chaffee, 442; C. G. Hudson, 60; J. H. Hoff, 67; S. Woodridge, 289. On constable: Clark, 482; Jerome Fulson, 325; Fred Willis, 40; O. Kanawyer, 1.

S. Armor was elected justice of Orange township and G. L. Jackson constable. Neither had opposition. Two votes were cast in that precinct for J. B. Cox and one for George Huntington.

Township Counts

C. W. Warner, 219; J. W. Shirley, 202; C. H. Howard, 159. That is the way the vote on justice of Huntington Beach township stands. Shirley and Warner must run again for November. Eugene Davis with a vote of 351 defeated R. E. Linden, 212, for constable of that township.

H. E. Inskip with a vote of 723 to 510 for B. F. Kenney was re-elected justice of Fullerton township.

J. S. Howard got re-election as justice of Anaheim by a vote of 613 to 464 for Frank Fox. John Kellenberger was re-elected constable.

KONIGSBERG IS TAKEN FROM GERMANS

Russians Occupy Important City—Czar's Men Over Vistula River

RUSSIAN PLAN FOR OVER PRUSSIA RUN SUCCEEDS

Kaiser Orders Check of Invasion of Czar—German Success at Allenstein, Said

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—Russians occupied the important German city of Konigsberg today. The Germans have taken refuge in the citadel, which is invested. A strong Russian force has crossed the Vistula river, it was announced today. The Germans had declared that the Russians would not cross the Vistula, but the Russians are shoving on through Prussia and Austria, exactly as they had planned, it was officially announced.

Danzig in Panic

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Panicked by the approach of the Russian armies, the citizens of Danzig have begun violent anti-foreign demonstrations, according to an Exchange Telegraph Copenhagen dispatch.

Kaiser Orders Check of Russians

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The German war office orders that the Russian advance into Germany be checked immediately. The first line of second reserves and Landstrum reservists are being rushed eastward. An Austrian force is also en route to the east. The Austrians are also withdrawing from the Serbian frontier to stem the Russian invasion. Confidence is expressed in Berlin that these troops will hold the Russian Czar in check.

A dispatch coming via Amsterdam to the German war office, announced a German defeat of the Russians near Allenstein. The German defense is becoming increasingly effective, and the assertion is made that the Russians have been checked.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—Despite denials at Berlin, Foreign Minister Sazonoff today officially announced the Russian occupation of Allenstein, in East Prussia.

Weird Prince Forgotten—Fleece

BRINDISI, Aug. 29.—Prince William of Weir, King of Albania, is reported today to have fled from Durrazzo, his capital. The powers, preoccupied by the great war, had withdrawn their military and financial support. Prince William's life would undoubtedly have been sacrificed if he had remained. It is generally believed that Italy will intervene in Durrazzo, where it is said chaos reigns.

SEAMEN'S BILL HAS PASSED HOUSE

Regulates Service in Merchant Marine—Rep. Mann Forsees Prosperity for U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The so-called seamen's relief bill, to regulate conditions of service in the merchant marine, has passed the House.

Just before the vote, Republican Leader Mann, referring to the effect the bill would have on the emergency movement to rehabilitate the American merchant marine, told the House that if Americans would keep cool and non-partisan in the war on in Europe, the prosperity of the world largely would fall into America's lap.

"The civilization of the world," said Representative Mann, "depends on the attitude of the United States in the present contest and we must preserve our temper and preserve the civilization that has come down to us."

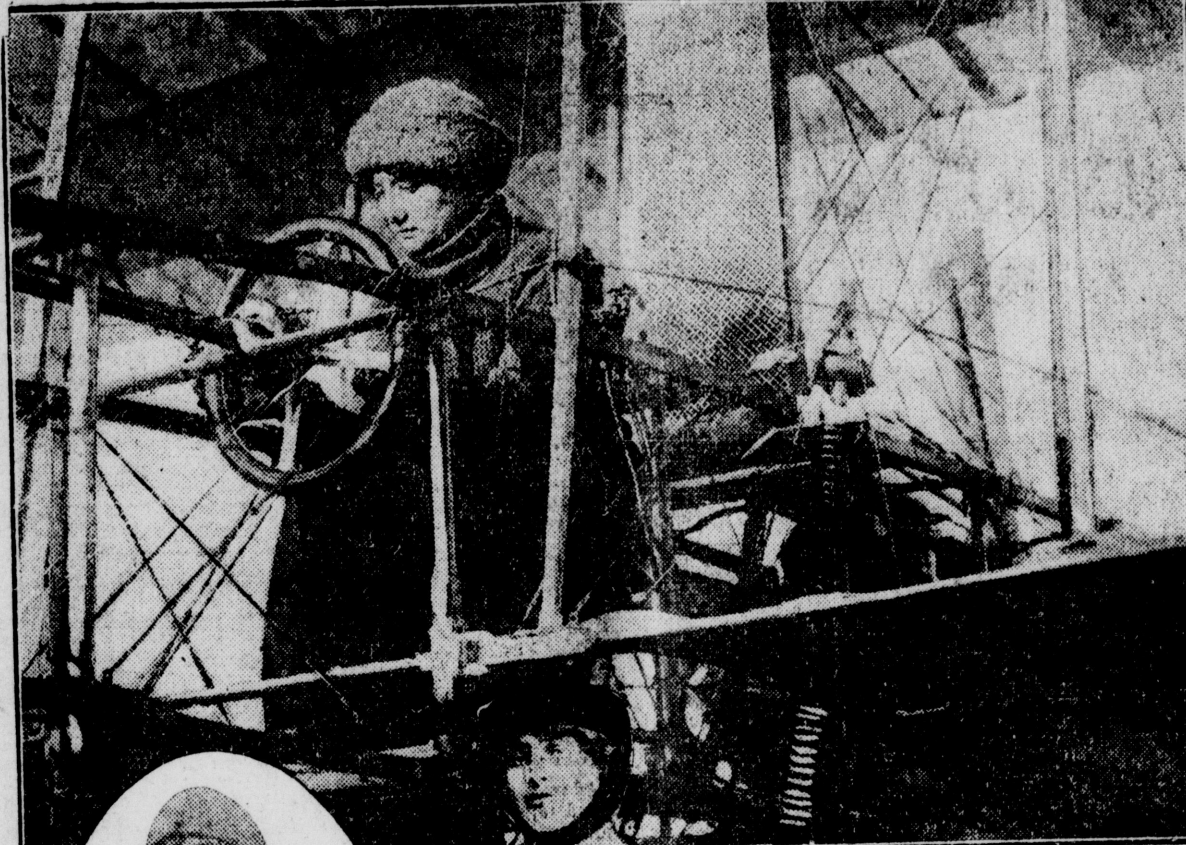

Mr. Mann voted for the bill, although he said he regretted provisions in it that terminated parts of the treaties with foreign nations respecting wages and desertions.

Representative Murphy of Washington declared that strict enforcement of certain provisions of the bill might lead to complications with Japan.

S. P. GOING TO PAVE STRIP ON WASHINGTON

Steele Finley today received a letter from Superintendent W. H. Whalen of the Southern Pacific, saying that he had received authority for the paving to be done by the Southern Pacific on Washington avenue.

Other paving on the street has been completed, and property owners were getting anxious for word from the S. P.

$25,000,000 War Cost a Day Will Break Germany

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Atlantic arrived from Europe today with 1788 Americans. J. Borden Harriman, wife and daughter were aboard. Harriman said the war is costing Germany $25,000,000 daily and that the nation will soon be bankrupt.

The Olympic with 1960 passengers is due tomorrow. Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania, Alfred Vanderbilt, Theodore Shonts and his daughter, Duchess de Chalmers and several other American millionaires are on the Olympic.

Bad for the Germans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The following dispatch was received today from British Ambassador Cecil Spring-Rice from the London foreign office.

"East Prussia is being rapidly overrun by the Russians and a great part of it is already in their hands."

The French Embassy received a cablegram from the Paris government saying that 7000 Germans were slain near Nancy and Vitrymon. It also said that Longwy has capitulated.

The French dispatch adds: "The French army has again taken the offensive at Vosges. Offensive operations between the Vosges mountains and Nancy have been uninterrupted for five days."

German losses are considerable. We found 2000 dead Germans on the front of three kilometers near Nancy."

VANCOUVER, B. C. SENDS MEN TO ENGLAND

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 29.—The staff of practically every newspaper in the city has been depleted by the departure of troops for Europe. All other lines show similar shortages. Law students are marching away beside the city's population. The city's population is decreasing as England's cry for help comes over the seas.

Inspector Howard of the mounted police is advocating the organization of a home guard for the defense of Vancouver. Men between seventeen and fifty-seven years, who are unable to go to the front, will be eligible for enrollment.

ITALY MAY YIELD TO WAR DEMAND; PEOPLE ANGERED AT AUSTRIA

ROME, Aug. 29.—Under heavy pressure the Italian government is slowly tending toward war. The people are angered by continued Austrian mobilization on the frontier, and the newspapers are demanding an explanation of Austria. It is rumored that an ultimatum to Vienna is near. The foreign office has insisted that Italy remain neutral. It is certain no aid will be lent to Germany or Austria, as such a move would mean a revolution.

Conflicting Rumors

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The British in northeastern France was forced back to a new line the Germans are holding at Cambrai, was stated today by a correspondent of the London Express and Daily Mail. A Paris dispatch to the Times, however, asserted that they had advanced.

AEROPLANE HIT GROUND HARD SMASHES

J. Floyd Smith Comes Down Too Straight and Meets With Disaster

After flying to Santa Ana from Griffith Field, J. Floyd Smith had hard luck lighting, and as a consequence considerable repairs will be necessary before he can continue on his way to San Diego. Smith was flying his own machine, though he is now employed in Glenn L. Martin's factory in Los Angeles. He alighted near the southwest corner of the Polytechnic grounds. The space for lighting was rather short, and Smith struck the ground too strongly with the nose of his machine, with the result that the wheels were jammed, one end of the propeller broken, and the machine tumbled on to its wings so that they were somewhat damaged.

Glenn Martin is visiting a couple of days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin.

CITRUS FRUITS SHIPMENTS LIGHT

Eastern Markets Have Plentiful Supply of Deciduous Fruits, Making Market Slow

800 CARS VALENCIAS STILL IN COUNTY

Pomona District is Winding Up on Valencia Shipments; Riverside Still Busy

Citrus shipments from Orange county have been somewhat light during the past few weeks owing to a slow market in the East caused principally by the great stock of deciduous fruits with which oranges have to compete at present. As an indication of the effect that the large supply of deciduous fruits has on the eastern markets there were sold during a five-day period last week in New York city alone 322 carloads of deciduous fruits, the heaviest sale known in the history of the business.

"While shipments have been light lately," said D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, Orange, today, "it is likely that the number of carloads sent out weekly will be considerably increased beginning next week."

In the Pomona district the orange packing houses are commencing to clean up on Valentias. This is not the case in Orange county, which ships this fruit later than any other section in Southern California.

"The packers in this county are still in the midst of shipping Valentias," said Huff. "I think I am safe in saying that there are at least 800 cars of Valentias remaining to be shipped out of this county. Shipments will continue this year until November 1."

The Pomona Outlook

POMONA, Aug. 29.—The orange packing-houses are commencing to clean up on the Valencia crop in the valley, although shipping will be continued as late as October. The fruit is of good quality and most of the Valencia groves have had good crops.

Following the annual meetings of the several fruit exchanges and associations in this locality the managers of the different packing-houses will begin to renovate the plants and make improvements that may be needed for the coming season's run.

Several crews engaged in the fumigation of citrus trees by the cyanide process are working in the orange and lemon groves in this vicinity and this work will be continued until late in the fall, hundreds of acres being treated, fumigation as well as fertilization, cultivation and irrigation being necessary to produce crops.

Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 29.—Citrus fruit shipments for the current season were increased by twenty carloads the past week, when eighteen cars of oranges and two of lemons left the local packing-houses. The total for the season to date is 4079 cars, of which fifty-five cars are credited to lemons.

Second Demurrers in Birch Oil Cases Upheld by Judge Thomas

Demurrers in the Birch oil cases have been sustained by Judge Thomas and amended complaints must be filed. The meaning of the ruling is that the plaintiffs must disclose in their pleadings the source of their information and the time that they became convinced that A. Otis Birch had secured possession of stock in the Menges Oil Company through misrepresentation.

The defendants demurred to the complaints on the ground that action was prohibited through the statute of limitations. It was asserted that from the complaints it could not be told whether or not the complaints were filed within three years after the time the plaintiffs became convinced that Birch, when he bought their stock, knew that a great well was about to be brought in on the Menges property at Brea.

Judge Thomas held that it is necessary for the plaintiffs to set forth the time the information was secured and the time the plaintiffs became persuaded that they had not been dealt rightly by. The plaintiffs in their amended complaints will also give the name of their informant.

Train Service Between Paris and Boulogne Was Discontinued Today

ALLIES AND GERMANS TO FIGHT ALONG R. R. LINE

Belgians Stung Into Activity by Burning of Louvain by Kaiser's Troops

BOULOGNE, via London, Aug. 29.—Train service between here and Paris was discontinued today. It was believed grim fighting was imminent between the British, French and Germans along the line of railroad connecting the two cities.

Belgians on Offensive

ANTWERP, Aug. 29.—The Belgians, stung by the destruction of Louvain, were vigorously offensive again today. It is reported a fresh attempt was made to cut the German line of communication. This has already forced Germany to withdraw 40,000 troops from Southern Belgium to meet this emergency. It was later reported the Belgians are engaging the Germans at Malines and it is believed they are about to attack Brussels.

Denying the German charge that citizens of Louvain fired on the Kaiser's troops and asserting that the town was burned solely because the Belgians had beaten the Germans at Malines, Foreign Minister Davignon has personally asked the representatives of the neutral powers to call their governments' attention to the affair.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—London dispatches that native troops are en route from India to aid the allies were received here with the liveliest interest. The information is taken as official. It is believed the Indians will come by way of the Red Sea, the Suez Canal and the Mediterranean Sea, landing at Marseilles.

OBITUARY

Rev. A. C. Junkin, D. D., was born near Jamestown, Ohio, Jan. 28, 1829. He passed to his eternal reward and fellowship, from his home at Westminster, Cal., Aug. 25, aged 85 years and nearly seven months.

He was a child of godly forbears, brought up under the influences of a Christian home and community. The village church was a Caesar Creek, founded in 1831. With this United Presbyterian church our brother united when 18 years of age. The prayers of his mother that he enter the Gospel ministry were answered. For this purpose he was educated. He taught school three years; graduated from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1852. Licensed to preach 1854, and ordained in 1857.

He was married to Miss Henrietta Dickey of Oxford, Pa., in 1859. Eight children were born of this union, three only remain. Nearly seven years ago Mrs. Junkin was called home.

Dr. Junkin's ministerial life found expression first in three years' mission work. Following this he served the churches of Greenville, Pa., Red Clay Creek, Delaware, Fairview, on Lake Erie, Fourth Church, Dayton, Ohio, Coppersville, Ind., and Hanover, Ind., where he also taught in Hanover College. Three years were spent in mission work in Kansas. Then he came to California, serving the church at Westminster for thirteen years. An interval of some years was spent in Los Angeles, where he kept busy teaching and preaching. About seven years ago he returned to Westminster. In the church of his former labors he often preached, and he taught a Bible class for a number of years to an interested membership.

Fifty-seven years of ministerial labor, teaching the Word of God, lifting up the savior of men by word and testimony and life, seeking to win men to the Master. But his labors are ended. The end came quietly; the Master called his faithful servant home.

He has lived a long life. He has been an honored minister of Jesus Christ, a devout student of the Word. Years ago his mind was directed to the study of the second coming of our Lord. He became a pronounced premillennialist, hence he had the biggest Bible. This, with the fundamentals of the faith, were to him cherished treasures, and dear to him as his life.

Beloved by all, genial and kindly, his life has been a benediction to old and young. His children, relatives and friends will live over again his life, receive comfort and strength as they remember the one whom the Master has called home. Faith has its reward, knowledge is now perfected, the crowning joy of love has fullest answer in the presence of the Savior.

The funeral services were conducted by the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Westminster, Rev. W. T. Wardle, August 27, at 2 p. m., in the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Ana. Rev. Mr. Thomas of Garden Grove, Rev. Richard Pyke of Santa Ana, Dr. Samuel E. Wishard, and Dr. R. W. Cleland of Los Angeles assisted in the services. Interment was at Santa Ana. W. T. W.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Dr. James Allen Geissinger in an "Out West" article on "Business is Putting Booze on the Blink," says:

"The wine men today are strong on Noah and rapturously quote Horace, and remind us that men have always partaken of the fermented juice of the grape. But that style of scriptural exhortation, even when it falls from the unctuous lips of a liquor advocate, is not very convincing, nor is the poetical effusion a large success. Suppose Noah did use wine, and, as seems clear, used too much of it, what of it? Noah plowed with a crooked stick. Is the modern man to abandon the steam-plow because his remote ancestor had not progressed that far? The modern business man is not concerned as to what Noah did or did not do. He knows that a man with his head full of wine, whether the wine be red, light, dry, California, French, or Italian, is not too per cent efficient. He cannot be. What the modern man needs is not an inflammation in his brain that makes him think he is speedy and accurate and trustworthy and indispensable; he needs a clear brain, and all of it clear."

"Drinking makes for inefficiency—all the men and women in America are beginning to see this. That is why the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at its recent national meeting in Chicago, representing 8,000,000 club women throughout the United States, adopted this resolution:

"Whereas the liquor traffic is responsible for three-fourths of the crime, vice and misery of this country.

"Be it resolved that the women of the General Federation place themselves on record as opposed to the liquor traffic."

"In McClure's for May, Connie Mack asks this question: 'Who puts the ball player out of the game? You would naturally say 'the umpire,' wouldn't you? Well, all the umpires together haven't put as many ball players out of the game as has Old Man Booze!'"

WOMEN'S PEACE PARADES HELD IN MANY CITIES
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Women in a dozen cities throughout the country today paraded as a public protest against the European war, and as a plea to the heads of the warring nations to arbitrate. More than 1,000 women were expected to be in line in the New York parade which was arranged under the direction of Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch. It was also under the direction of Mrs. Blatch that women's organizations of other cities arranged their parades of peace.

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 29.—The Alameda county Socialist Party is making arrangements to make an annual feature of its memorial service at the potter's field of the county infirmary for those to whom they refer as "victims of the capitalist system." The recent initial service of this character was a highly impressive ceremony. Socialist women from all over the country brought flowers, the service was read by the Rev. Wilmot Friend of an East Oakland Baptist church and there were music, speeches and prayers for the unnamed pauper dead.

Figures show that in addition to the 111,471 autos registered there are 23,334 motorcycles, 15,934 chauffeurs and receipts amounting to $1,282,968.

Brain and Brawn

Fed and Sustained by Whole
Wheat Food

Wheat eaters conquer the world. You have but to look up the history of the nations to prove this statement. Whole wheat builds brain and brawn. "Force" was selected for the American Athletes at the Olympic Games—why? Because it builds brain and brawn, bone and sinew, muscle and nerve; sustains health and strength. Not only is food made from the whole wheat nourishing, it is delicious. You doubtless recall some occasion—possibly in your younger days—when, in passing through a wheat field, you plucked a head of wheat which you rubbed between your hands (blowing away the chaff) and then ate it.

Do you recall the delicious sweet flavor of the ripe wheat? That is just the flavor you get in "Force"—the whole wheat food; scientifically cooked and blended with barley malt, then toasted and flaked. You don't get this flavor in other cereal foods. Couldn't expect it. Whole wheat—that's the answer.

Put up in air-tight, dust-proof packages, "Force" comes to you fresh and crisp. Ask your grocer—Advertisement.

AUSTRIAN GUNBOATS IN THE DANUBE WHICH HAVE BEEN SHELLING BELGRADE WITHOUT MUCH IMPRESSION

These are the Austrian gunboats which, at the outbreak of the war between Serbia and Austria, it was said, would sweep Belgrade and clear the Servians entirely from the banks of the Danube. But the boats have been shelling Serbian cities for several days except when they were driven away by the Serbian armies, and at the last report they had not made much impression. The Austrians have six of these boats on the river. They are of a sort of monitor type, and would be of little use in a war where great ocean battleships were to be encountered. But it was believed by the Austrians they would be of great value in a war with Serbia, Bulgaria or Roumania.

RICH FUTURITY CLOSES SARATOGA RACE MEETING

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 29.—With approximately $20,000 as the prize, interest was intense here today in the classic futurity race. J. N. Camden's Luke, one of the best two-year-olds in the West; W. R. Coe's Hauberk, the Brookside Stable's Coquette, and Schuyler L. Parson's Phosphor were expected to be favorites for the big race.

John E. Madden's Polish and the Finn, E. B. Cassett's Trial by Jury, Rai Parr's The Masquador, and the Montpelier Stable's Pixy, also were thought to have good chances.

The owners who have been racing here for the month past will have a few days' rest while they ship their horses to Syracuse for the race meet which will be held there as a part of the New York State Fair. The Syracuse races are set for September 3, 4 and 5.

There will be one stake well worth the winning at Syracuse. This is the State Fair Stake for which $5,000 has been added by the owners' fund. It is a weight for age event at a mile and a quarter, and should settle finally the much mooted question of the best horse of the season, according to racing experts. Purses of from $400 to $500 have been offered for each of the remaining races, of which there will be six daily.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel
Backache or Have Bladder
Trouble

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain of getting rid of it and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens
So Naturally That Nobody
Can Tell

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Advertisement.

Constipation Causes Sickness
Don't permit yourself to become constipated, as your system immediately begins to absorb poison from the backed-up waste matter. Use Dr. King's New Life Pills and keep well. There is no better safeguard against illness. Just take one dose tonight. 25c at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

ELECTION CERTAIN

San Francisco Bulletin: The Republican vote for Eshleman foretells the action of the people in November. Eshleman, next to Governor Johnson himself, is the embodiment of the Johnson administration. No man who would not vote for Johnson would vote for Eshleman. It is obvious that the great mass of registered Republicans, who crossed the party line in a partisan primary to make Eshleman the Republican nominee for the lieutenant-governorship, intend to vote for Hiram W. Johnson at the November election.
If Johnson had been a candidate for the Republican nomination he would have been the party's choice. And it is notorious that most of the Democrats will support Governor Johnson openly and actively.
The re-election of Governor Johnson is as certain as any future event can be in politics.

In the last days of July the sheriff was ordered to close all buildings which had been used for blind pigs in Memphis, Tennessee, to lock the doors and carry the keys with him, and to post large signs, stating that the places were permanently closed by order of the court.

POPE PIUS

It is very frequently the case, when a man climbs from a lowly origin to some position of high authority and dignity, that he forgets the steps by which he rose. He loses sympathy for the poor and struggling. He assumes that because he was able to rise, others are at fault if they do not also succeed, forgetting that most people have not the endowments of power and force which permitted him to climb.

The sorrow manifested at the death of Pope Pius is not limited to those of his own religious faith. Anyone who will scan the history of his life can see here the record of a singularly fine character. Born in a family of eight children, who were raised on a wage of $1.55 a week, he knew all the grind of poverty. His life in the splendor of the Vatican was made simple and informal, so far as he could escape from the machinery of a great position, as it had been in the hills of Treviso.

His example of humility and simplicity is particularly valuable because of tendencies within the church toward aristocracy and formality. Anyone familiar with Anthony Trollope's novels will recall the pictures of Anglican church life, which contrast singularly with the manners of Pope Pius.

The English type developed some wonderfully fine personalities. But there was too much ecclesiastical politics in it, too much display and wealth and luxury. The splendor accorded but ill with the rigors of the life of the Master, who knew not where to lay his head.

Any great church acquires its magnificence. Perhaps it needs it, for the assertion of its dignity and importance. But too often these exterior trappings tend to remove the ministers of the gospel from the simple people of every day life. It was the distinction of Pius, that up to the limit of his ability, and so long as he could, he answered personally all letters and appeals for help, and made it a point to see whoever wished to see him.

The trade is still in a bad way. Bonfort's, for Aug. 31, says: "There is no activity apparent in the Eastern rye situation," and it finds the only hope for an upward movement of the market in a possible anti-prohibition wave on the Pacific Coast this fall.

BOYCOTT SAUCE

Fresno Republican: Irving Martin, owner of the Stockton Record, gave some significant testimony yesterday before the Federal Industrial Relations commission regarding an effort by the Merchants, Manufacturers and Employers Association of Stockton to control the editorial and news columns of the daily newspapers of Stockton through a covert threat of boycott. Various conferences were held in Stockton between publishers and members of the association in which members of the Employers' association quite evidently undertook to do to the newspapers that which they so violently resented when the unions undertook to do it to them. The one privilege which these merchants and manufacturers most violently defend the unions is that which in their own language they define as "the right to run their own business to suit themselves." But this is precisely the right which they undertook to take away from the newspapers and they undertook to enforce their control of other people's business, in other words, Mr. Martin's business, by precisely the method to which they most objected when it was used by the labor unions towards them, namely, the boycott.

The complaint against the policy of the newspapers was also characteristic. The objection to the newspapers was that they gave too much publicity to the union side of the controversy. The fact was that the unions furnished to the newspapers all the news of their side of the controversy and that the employers for the most part refused to give the news facts of their side and did not desire the news published. The newspapers, or at least Mr. Martin's paper, of course published all the news they could get, that being the business in which they were engaged, and if one side obstructed access to the facts, naturally it and not the newspapers was at fault if less news from its side was published than from the other side. Finally, when both sides established press bureaus, neither side gave out any facts, but both sides gave out controversial statements which were not news. This also illustrates a maxim which the merchants and manufacturers regard as an axiom when applied to themselves, and that is that each man knows his own business best. When the persons unskilled in the handling of news undertook to provide news the stuff which they provided for the most part was not news. They were perhaps as incompetent to handle news as newspaper reporters would have been to manufacture brick or sell ladies' gloves. Finally Mr. Martin refused to publish further statements of this character and published an editorial advising arbitration. For this act he was termed "obnoxious" by certain employers and was informed that his editorial was a bad thing to publish for the community. The direct threat of boycott was not made, but significant emphasis was placed in the conversation upon the fact that the advertising of these merchants was the principal source of the newspaper's financial support. If Mr. Martin had informed the drug stores that he regarded the most of the goods they sell as a bad thing for the community and had reminded them that advertising is the chief means of foisting these goods on the community he would probably have been told to mind his own business. But if he had replied that this was precisely what he desired to do, and had been asked to be let alone in doing it, his language would have been regarded as offensive. It is a poor rule and therefore it does not work both ways.

Nearly all the crime in the army can be traced to intoxication, and I have always found that when in an army or body of troops in the field, there was no issue of spirits, or where their use was prohibited, the health, as well as the conduct of the men, was all that could be wished for.—Lord Wolsely.

To the Voters of Orange County:—The Board of Supervisors having completed the official count, I take this opportunity of thanking you for the very complimentary vote that I received at the primaries.

In the years of service of one in the position of judge, deciding as he must many contested cases, he inevitably makes enemies; notwithstanding this fact, you by your splendid vote have said to me that you believe I have been fair, honest and impartial, and for this stamp of approval of my administration I thank you one and all from the depths of my heart, and this expression of your confidence will only impel me, should you see fit to continue me on the bench as your servant, to be more patient, faithful, considerate and determined, if possible, to administer the law without fear or favor to any.

Meanwhile, I am,
Sincerely yours,
Z. B. WEST.

TO THE VOTERS
To the Voters of Orange County: I wish to thank you for the loyal support you gave me at the primary election last Tuesday.

Most Respectfully,
JAMES SLEEPER.

CITY HALL IN ANTWERP, AND ANOTHER VIEW IN CITY SOON TO BE UNDER SIEGE OF GERMANS

The City Hall in Antwerp, like many other buildings in the beautiful city soon to be under siege by the German army, is a very attractive structure. In fact, Antwerp, like Brussels, is filled with fine structures. In all of these preparations have been made for a long siege. The last stand for independence will be made there, for the Belgians feel that if Germany wins the war she will cease to be an independent nation. Many of the smaller houses in the suburbs and along the canals have been destroyed and the trees outside of the city cut down, so that any German attacking force will be unable to take cover. Officers detailed by General Joffre from the French staff corps to aid the Belgians are now here and are meeting with the Belgian staff. There is doubt whether the German plans consider any serious siege of Antwerp. The defenses of the city are considered impregnable. These are three lines of forts, the final and naturally the strongest final and naturally the strongest entire approach from the land is carefully guarded while British or French warships can be sailed directly up the scheldt to aid in the defense.

MEXICO CITY, Monday, Aug. 17.—At last I am in Mexico City. I had the great good fortune to get passage from Saltillo to this city in the special car bearing Senor Luis Cabrera, close personal friend of General Carranza, member of Congress under President Madero, and, since the overthrow of the Madero regime confidential agent at large for the constitutionalist cause. Senor Cabrera before entering Congress was an attorney in Mexico City. He has the reputation of being one of the brainiest men connected with the constitutionalists, was mentioned at the Niagara convention as a possible provisional president and will no doubt be a member of President Carranza's cabinet and possibly the first president by election of the new regime. Yet with all his honors past and prospective Senor Cabrera is one of the most thoroughly likeable men I have met in Mexico. He is very democratic in his ways. Often in the two days and nights of our trip he dropped into the seat beside me and talked of America, of Mexico or of Europe. He has traveled all over the world and speaks English, French, and German beside his native Spanish. Once he found me studying a Spanish grammar and told many amusing incidents of his own study of English and of the difficulty of understanding the English spoken in London after learning the language in the United States.

Other members of the party were Hon. Frank Rabb, chief collector of customs from El Paso, Tex., to Brownsville, Edwin Brodix of San Antonio, Tex., Prof. Leslie Wells of Clark College, Worcester, Mass., and several friends of Senor Cabrera, including Senor A. J. Pani, a probable member of Carranza's cabinet.

A special car in Mexico does not necessarily mean a luxurious coach these days. Ours was a mere day coach with wooden seats instead of plush. For the two nights that we traveled we made ourselves as comfortable as possible on the seats, on the floor or wherever might be. Senor Cabrera, with many a laugh and joke, slept on top of a huge trunk without cover above or below him.

After we had left San Luis Potosi a decided change for the better was noticeable not only in the fertility of the soil but in the degree of cultivation. There has been less fighting down this way; the land has been less subject to the ravages of war. The last day many large haciendas came into view surrounded by corn fields. Frequently, too, I saw alfalfa fields that reminded me of sunny California. It is the east and north that has suffered most from the war. A large part of the country, through the north especially, is semi-arid and given up to cattle ranges and now, as these cattle have been shipped across the border or gone to feed the armies the country is desolated.

Just before reaching Mexico City we received word that General Carranza and his staff were at Tlaxiapa for two days rest before entering the city. Accordingly our train stopped there and we went to pay our respects. We found General Carranza in company with Generals Jesus Carranza, and Pablo Gonzales receiving delegations from the city. Though it was an informal gathering, the generals standing beside their private train with a great crowd around them, a spirit of festivity and rejoicing was in the air. Federals and constitutionalists had the day before reached an agreement for the transfer of the government and all were happy. General Carranza wore the same plain gray uniform with steel buttons and devoid of gold braid or decorations that he was wearing when I met him in Durango two months ago. He always wears a gray Stetson, too, and is not to the slightest degree given to ostentation so far as his personal appearance goes.

August 19, I have been in Mexico City now for two days and each day

I like the city better. I had an interview yesterday with U. S. Consul Silliman, having been entrusted with some dispatches for him from Mr. McMillan, British vice-consul in Saltillo. Mr. Silliman had traveled south with General Carranza and reached Mexico City two days before I did. No regular train service has yet been established south of San Luis Potosi but the authorities have promised regular trains soon.

Though General Carranza has not yet entered the city part of the constitutionalist army has. The streets are full of soldiers but everywhere the best of order is maintained. The new constitutionalist authorities executed one of their own officers, a colonel, this morning because becoming filled with too much patriotism and mesquite he raised a disturbance. All saloons are closed and quiet reigns.

Mexico City is not greatly different from other Mexican cities I have been in except that it is larger. There are many foreigners here, too, and I've heard the good old United States language often in the last two days than ever before in that space of time since being in Mexico. Of course the foreign population in the city now is small compared with that in normal times.

The city is decorated with flags in honor of the constitutionalist occupation. The "Jefe" as he is called—Spanish for chief—was to have made his triumphant entry tomorrow but it has been put off another day to complete preparations.

All passenger train service on the railroad between this city and Vera Cruz was discontinued yesterday. The new authorities give no reason for this but it is generally understood that there are two reasons, one that dissatisfied bands of Zapatistas are appearing in that region; another that many people who were hand in glove with President Huerta are now taking an eleventh hour departure; and to such the new authorities have much to say.

A strange mixture of money is being used in the city now. With the coming of the constitutionalists has come their varied bills issued by each state, by each general, and by their government. These with the notes of the many banks already in circulation here and with the federal government money still used make the forms in which the "medium of exchange" appears as varied as the whims of an old maid.

In closing I will mention something that hangs over all like a vague threat, a menace perhaps the more awe inspiring because indefinable: Villa has refused to come south and take part in the triumphant entry. What does this mean? Is the thought in every mind. It is not often openly expressed. Officers of Carranza's staff when approached on the subject, become silent though ready to discuss almost anything else. Citizens of the town frequently approach me on learning that I have just arrived from the north and after carefully beating about the bush ask: "Where is Villa?" "What is he going to do?" And as cautiously I answer "I do not know. When I left the north he was in Chihuahua." The government has been transferred; all other constitutionalist generals with the exception of Zapata have either entered the city or are waiting in the outskirts to take part in the triumphant entry, but—where is Villa?

August 20. This has been a day of great festivity, un dia grandioso for the constitutionalists. General Carranza entered the city this morning at 10 o'clock and was received with great acclaim by a crowd that must have numbered hundreds of thousands. The city was gay with green, white and red flags and bunting and profusely hung with portraits of Carranza and Madero—for the name of Madero has become a positive fetish with the constitutionalists. The parade itself must have been at least three miles long and comprised horsemen, automobiles, foot soldiers, bands and a long train of field guns. It was a martial display long to be remembered. General Carranza rode near the head of the parade on a beautiful black charger. As usual he was clad in a plain gray uniform and wore a gray felt hat. His attire was without decorations or ornaments of any kind, the uniform, in fact, that a private in the ranks might affect without being conspicuous. Long before reaching the Palacio, however, he was covered with confetti and rose petals that had been showered upon him by the throng. On his hat-brim flowers clung and on his horse and saddle wherever they could find lodgment. Ahead and behind him rode most of the generals who have won fame in the revolution. General Pablo Gonzales was there, General Jesus Carranza, the "Chief's" brother, General Obregon, Generals Blanco, Escobedo, Cabral, Alvarado and a host of others of lesser fame, all fine, intelligent, soldierly looking men. Of prominent constitutionalist generals only Villa and Zapata were absent. Neither of them has come to the city yet. On reaching the Palacio the "Chief" held a reception, was waited upon by committees from various social and political bodies and received the key of the city.

The streets of Mexico City on such an occasion present a wonderful appearance so full are they of color and of many social grades of human beings. Many times today I saw barefooted, half naked Indians, yet everywhere were splendid equipages filled with beautifully gowned women and silk-hatted men. The soldier was the man of the hour and was present in every grade of rank and uniform from the privates, many of them with bare feet thrust into sandals and clad in dirty khaki or ragged nondescript clothing, to higher officers in trim uniforms with glittering swords at their sides.

The crowd upon the street was packed to suffocation. I mingled with them taking pictures, was shoved and buffeted about, trod upon by a soldier's horse, rappled on the head with a gun butt, poked in the vest pocket with a bayonet, struck by a peon who let his hatred of gringos get the best of him, swallowed dust, perspired till my collar was a string and otherwise enjoyed myself. Well, one can't go through a revolution every day so it's viva Carranza! Viva Mexico! and sacred be the name of Madero!

ELOQUENT TALKER COMING

Mrs. Carrie L. Stokes to Aid "Dry" Campaign—Booked Here for Tour of County

The W. C. T. U. of Orange county is very fortunate in securing Mrs. Carrie L. Stokes, national lecturer for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, to make a tour of Orange county for a series of lectures on "California Dry," beginning September 1.

Mrs. Stokes is assigned to Santa Ana for Thursday for two meetings. In the afternoon she will conduct a young campaigners meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal church at 2:30 o'clock, and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock Mrs. Stokes will deliver a lecture to the public, in the Congregational church, to which everyone is invited.

The "Dry Federation" is asked to join the W. C. T. U. in making this a splendid meeting.

Mrs. Stokes has had a wide experience in reform work, has held many offices in the W. C. T. U., including that of state president of Missouri, and has lectured in nearly every state in the Union. She is strictly up-to-date, eloquent, instructive and entertaining. The San Jose Mercury-Herald says of her:

Mrs. Stokes is a woman of marked ability and grace, and her address was in keeping with the scope of the work she has done. From beginning to end she held the close attention of her hearers.

Everyone is asked to go out and hear Mrs. Stokes and help make "California Dry." A silver offering will be taken.

Shiloh Circle Meeting

The ladies of the Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., had a well-attended meeting on Thursday afternoon. The meeting was one of interest. Resolutions were passed on the death of Mrs. Lydia Hanna, a faithful charter member, who was one of the efficient workers.

Thirty sick calls were reported since the last meeting, and it was deemed a duty for all to bear in mind those who are sick, and to relieve them wherever possible. Many of the old veterans and their wives are shut in, and will appreciate visits and the remembrance of friends.

Dinner-Dance

Miss Katherine Irvine gave a most delightful dinner and dance at her spacious home on the San Joaquin ranch last evening in honor of Dorothy Lindley of Los Angeles. The table, at which covers were laid for eighteen young people, was beautifully appointed and artistically decorated, being centered with a piece fashioned of pink roses and asparagus ferns. Pink rose-buds were scattered over the snowy cloth. The parlors were brightened with pink asters and ferns.

After dinner the young people enjoyed the evening hours with dancing. Miss Irvine's guest list including Misses Lindley, Constance Byrne, Nellie Whybark, Margaret Adams of Los Angeles, Vernon and Helen Clayton of Riverside; Alberta Black of Santa Ana; Gertrude Hellis of the San Joaquin; Messrs. Frank Lillard, Russell Mullen, Glenn Martin, Robt. Calne, Henry Padgham, Richard Case, Ralph Shafer, Horace Stevens and Bradford Hellis.

THE TUSTIN TWELVE

Club Members Entertained in Honor of Departing Member, Mrs. Fred Poole

Mrs. Ellis Smith of North Main street entertained at her beautiful new home yesterday afternoon, her guests being the ladies of the Tustin Twelve. The affair was complimentary to Mrs. Fred Poole, a member of the club, who is leaving soon to live in Pasadena. Mrs. B. F. Nimmo assisted the hostess in the agreeable duties of entertaining.

Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Chas. S. Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Hofer charmingly rendered "Sing Me to Sleep." The afternoon was spent principally in the inspection of the lovely new home, a proceeding that proved to be a real treat to the guests, the house being artistic in finish and convenient in arrangement. Such a house is not only a cause for happiness to the mistress but to those fortunate enough to be entertained within its walls.

The Cecile Brunner roses used in the house decorations were from Mrs. Smith's own garden, planted but two months ago. The dainty blossoms were greatly admired by the guests, who were Mrs. Arthur Hofer, Mrs. J. S. House, Mrs. Chas. O. Artz, Mrs. Chas. Johnson, Mrs. Fred Moorhead, Mrs. E. J. Cranston, Mrs. C. Pierce, Mrs. B. F. Nimmo, Mrs. Poole, the complimented guest, and Mrs. Lynn Finster, the cousin and house guest of the hostess. It was regretted that Mrs. Albert Fuller, a valued member of the club, was unable to be present. Mrs. Frank Worden was elected to membership in the club, but owing to the recent death of her brother, Chas. H. Taylor, was not present.

For Miss West

Miss Helen Austin was hostess Wednesday at a pretty event for Miss Marguerite West, who will soon leave for San Diego, where she will attend the San Diego State Normal School this year. The Austin home at 319 Chestnut street was adorned with pink asters and the same lovely blossoms were used as favors when the dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Austin was assisted by her mother and Miss Mary Collins. Ukelele music by Miss Doris Robbins in accompaniment to singing of familiar songs by the company, was enjoyed. Miss Mildred Taylor gave a piano number and Miss Hester Billings sang. Miss Winifred Roberts read a pleasing selection.

The guest list included Miss Marguerite West, Miss Mary Collins, Arlene Gravath, Miss Zola Gulley, Miss Edith Watkins, Miss Jessie Niminger, Miss Lillian Norman, Miss Rosamond Norman, Miss Bessie Wood, Miss Geneva Sturtevant, Miss Edna Robbins, Miss Doris Robbins, Miss Nellie Marie Remsburg, Miss Edna Beatty, Miss Alice Wares, Miss Mildred Taylor, Miss Winifred Roberts, Miss Myra Kirk, Mrs. Victor Hawk, Mrs. Binkley, Mrs. Geneva Hossler Wilson of Santa Ana; Mrs. Stanley, Miss Verla Williamson, Miss Hester Billings, and of Orange.

Ladies' Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid of the First Congregational Church will hold the first meeting after vacation at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. Everybody is invited to be present. A social time will be enjoyed.

MRS. BAKER COMPLIMENTED

Noted Portrait Painter Guest of Honor of Art Study Club; Gave Informal Talk

Members and friends of the Santa Ana Art Club met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Padgham on Wednesday evening to enjoy a delightful program and to meet an honored guest, Mrs. Elizabeth Gowdy Baker of New York. Mrs. Baker is visiting at the home of her mother and sisters at 825 French street. A portrait painter of national reputation, she generously consented to address the Art Club and its friends on the subject of "Modern Painting." Delightful anticipations were more than realized by all who were so fortunate as to be present, and members of the company generously contributed to the pleasure of the evening, adding much to the excellent program.

Mrs. Padgham in her charming manner gave a piano number from "McDowell" that delighted her hearers, followed by Mrs. John Clarkson, who was welcomed as a new member and appreciated for her marked ability in dramatic art. Previous to her marriage Mrs. Clarkson graduated from Cunnock School of Oratory, Northwestern University of Evanston, Ill., and was dramatic instructor at Southwestern College of Winfield, Kansas. The beautiful and appropriate selection, "In an Atelier," by Thomas Bailey Aldrich, was given with much feeling and Mrs. Clarkson was greeted with sincere applause.

Elizabeth Gowdy Baker, the speaker of the evening, is a sister of Miss Joella F. Gowdy, who is a member of the Art Club and instructor of English in the Santa Ana High School. Rare accomplishments and individual charm characterized the personality of the speaker. Mrs. Baker, being a member of the National Art Club of New York City; chairman of art of the City Federation of New York, representing a membership of more than 100,000 women, and president of the Daughters of Ohio in New York City, the art lovers of Santa Ana had reason to expect a rare treat in an evening with her. Mrs. Baker's address was informal but interesting in every detail. Interesting comparisons regarding oil and water colors indicates a growing favor for the pure and delicate tones characteristic of aquarelle as a medium, both durability and beauty of color being assured.

A splendid collection of fine photographs of some of the beautiful portraits painted by Mrs. Baker gave the audience an idea of her work in beauty of technique and composition. In recent exhibitions at New York and Springfield, Mass., of Mrs. Baker's aquarelle portraits were those of many prominent eastern people, including also a portrait of Edwin Markham. The portrait of Mrs. James J. Clarkson of New York was especially admired. Generous prices are paid for these exquisite works of art.

The largest water color picture in the world is a life-size portrait of Miss Wallace of Springfield, Mass. Pictures of such huge proportions in water color involve many technical problems. A special manufacture of suitable paper also becomes necessary for such work.

After the pictures had been enjoyed questions were answered regarding the method of work and the general procedure in painting a portrait. Upon request Mrs. Clarkson favored the company with a second reading, "Heart's Ease," a tribute to childhood affection. Ernest Phillips concluded the program with a masterful reading of Kipling's inspiring lines, "L'Envoi." A rising vote of thanks was given to all who contributed to the evening's entertainment.

Rabbit Barbecue

Rev. Paul E. Wright entertained about eighteen young people with a rabbit barbecue at his home on Thursday evening. The sportsman-pastor had bagged the rabbits on the hunt and then built the barbecue appliances in the rear of the Wright home, where the affair took place at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

THE FINAL WORD ABOUT THAT GRAPE INDUSTRY

We can easily prove these calamity howlers to be false prophets out of the mouths of grape-growers and wine-makers themselves. Every voter can go to the public libraries or send to the state commission on horticulture and get Volume II, numbers 3 and 4 monthly bulletins of the state commission on horticulture published in March and April, 1913, before the "Dry Campaign" began and find the facts herein quoted or stated by referring to the pages we shall give as references.

At page 483 of these bulletins Prof. F. T. Bioletti of the State University of Berkeley, says:

"The average price received by producers (wine grapes) for a series of years must be very close to the cost of production. That this is actually the case appears from the following tables based on accounts kept at a number of vineyards in different parts of the state:

Cost of growing, cultivating, interest on investment, marketing, etc., per acre, valley $65.00, coast $60.00.

Crop return, 3 tons per acre at $22, valley $66.00.

Crop return, 5 tons per acre, at $12, coast $60.00.

Anemone Breckenridge, Mary Pickford, Lancer, and James Kirkwood. Beautiful! That is the word which expresses one's feelings after seeing this film, the latest release of the Famous Players Film Company. Why? Well, in the first place there is a beautiful girl at the head of the able cast. Then, there is a big supply of beautiful scenery included in the production, which offers a beautiful subject together with beautiful photography, so there you are.

Dramatic! That is another word which will creep into one's expression of the play. The novel by Anna Alice Chapin abounds with dramatic incidents which are played up to particular advantage through master acting. The play does more than hold one's interest—it brings one to the edge of the seat at times. Realistic sun lights are much in evidence, together with daring riding. The falls taken by some of the riders from the backs of the horses going at top speed created thrills among the audience, as did the fight between the two mountaineers in the cabin. Other dramatic scenes in which the star is an important factor are most effectively enacted. Among the touching scenes is one in which Mary Pickford is portrayed playing with an eagle which climbs up her arms and kisses her. In short, the play is the true Mary Pickford type, the kind of a subject that has made the little actress the most popular character in the play house. Other characters of the play have been portrayed to the life and general atmosphere of the play has been retained throughout. The play is another release which the Famous Players may point at with pride.

The story deals with a lawless mountain clan known as the Morones of Virginia. Anemone lives in the valley and is abducted by one of the clan. Lancer, son of the leader, also falls in love with the girl, and a fight takes place over her, in which he wins. In order to save her aunt from an enormous ransom which is demanded for her she marries the young mountaineer, but tells him that she hates him. In anger, Lancer tells her of love he will never speak a word of love to her until she asks him. Her former lover becomes a traitor and leads the sheriff and his posse to capture the outlaws. Anemone learns of this and saves the clan, for she has learned to love Lancer. Everything ends happily when the outlaws promise no longer to rebel against the state.

This greatest of all productions will be seen at the Temple Theater for three days only, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee every day. The Lady of the Island is the title of an interesting and beautiful drama of two parts in which Alexander Gaden and Dorothy Phillips are being featured at the Lyric Theater today and it is a story out of the usual run of dramas. A large college dog takes an important part in which he rescues his master, who is under lock and key in a house on a deserted island. It is a story that will appeal to the old as well as the young.

Then there are two screaming and fun-making comedies, one of which is "Cupid's Victory," in which Bobby Fuchner (Universal Ike, Jr.) and Louise Glau are featured, and then that prince of fun makers, Max Asher, takes the principal part in "Captain Kidd's Priceless Treasure," a huge comedy spectacle, either one of which is enough for an ordinary program, but it is Manager Knapp's idea to give something out of the ordinary for his Saturday's large patronage. A very beautiful Western drama entitled "When Memory Recalls," is also being presented, which goes to make up a

TOUGH LUCK FOR THIS YOUNG CHAP

Donald Wasser, 11-year-old son of W. W. Wasser, Sixth and French streets, is bemoaning the loss of a two-months-old cocker spaniel puppy which disappeared from the Wasser home yesterday noon. City Marshal Jernigan has been notified of the dog's disappearance and is keeping a sharp lookout in the hope that the little pet may be located. The boy is doubly grieved over the loss from the fact that he worked in an apricot camp this summer in order to get enough money to buy the puppy. Young Wasser paid $5 for the dog and invested also in a collar for his pet.

FIVE CARDINALS CONSIDERED FOR VACANT PAPACY

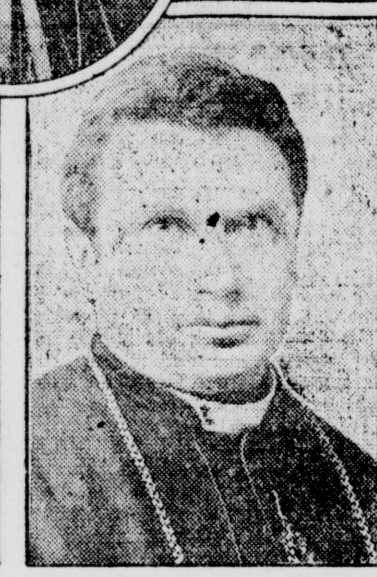

CARDINAL DOMENICO

CARDINAL LUADI

CARDINAL GASPARRI

CARDINAL GAETANO

CARDINAL MAFFI

Five cardinals of sixty-six in the Roman Catholic Church are being seriously considered for the place left vacant by the death of Pope Pius. The new Pope must be a Cardinal whose piety, intellectual attainments and executive ability are well known. He will probably be an Italian, as although the Sacred College is free to elect a foreigner, for many centuries the Pope has been an Italian, and a foreign Pope, it is feared would compromise the question of temporal power. Every Cardinal is bound by oath to defend, integrally and strenuously, the temporal rights and the liberty of the Holy See, especially the civil preeminence of the Pope. This implies that if elected Pope he is expected to oppose reconciliation with Italy, and a foreigner may fail to do so, while the three Italian Popes since 1870 followed implicitly this policy.

The group of papabili consists of the following Cardinals: Maffi, Gasparri, Luadi, De Lai and Ferrata. Cardinal Maffi is 55 years old, he has been six years a Cardinal. He is an eminent scientist. Cardinal O'Connell of Boston is being suggested as a conciliatory candidate.

Skin Soothed and Healed by D. D. D.

T itching skin, ugly eruptions, scaly scalp, Eczema and its allied diseases all yield instantly to the soothing influence of the mild, simple wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema.

From our experience with skin sufferers, we are convinced that skin disease is caused by germs beneath the outer skin that spread and multiply until they become a mass of gnawing animals. D. D. D., a penetrating liquid, destroys these germs and washes them away, thereby relieving that awful itch immediately. A one bottle will prove this much to you.

We are so confident that D. D. D. can reach all cases, that we offer you the first full size bottle on the guarantee that if it fails to do as we say, we will refund the purchase price. You alone to judge. D. D. D. Soap aids in keeping the skin pure; ask us.

BIG YEAR EXPECTED IN WESTERN FOOTBALL

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—This looks like another great year for western football. With one or two exceptions, the powerful elevens that attracted national attention last year will be almost intact. Any vacant spots will be plugged with some of the most promising material western gridirons have seen in years.

Outside the Western Conference, Notre Dame, on paper, appears to top any eleven in the west this year and the West expects to see the Catholics score a decisive victory over Yale. The material at Michigan this fall looks woefully weak when compared with the squad Yost had last year and a victory over Harvard in the other great inter-sectional clash of the year is scarcely to be expected.

Notre Dame has lost but two men from the great eleven of last year—Rockne and Dorais. Dorais' place will be filled from a trio of good reserve men but the problem of finding an end to replace Rockne will be a serious one.

Of the Western Conference elevens, Chicago, Wisconsin and Illinois look best at this stage of the game. The Maroon eleven, Conference champion last year and undoubtedly one of the greatest machines the West has produced, will be a trifle weaker at the opening of the season. Capt. Norgren, an all-American selection in 1913, and Fullback Pierce, are lost to Coach Stagg. There is no dearth of material at Chicago University, however, and the Maroon eleven should be in the running for another championship from the start.

Wisconsin counts upon some of the best material in the West from the 1913-14 freshman class to replace veterans graduated last June. Illinois' lineup from 1913 is practically intact. Coach Zupke made a brilliant showing at the downstate school in his first try last year and is expected to produce a contender for the championship.

Bear stories are emanating from Minnesota, where it is said that several of the stars of the 1913 eleven will not return to school. Purdue lost most of her best men last June and is not believed to be of championship timber.

Of the other Conference schools, Ohio State is said to look better than last year; Indiana's prospects are somewhat improved, but Iowa is not counted upon to be the factor she was in 1913.

Los Angeles Produce Market.
The arrival of a steamer loaded with lemons from Sicily caused the New York market on the fruit to topple and break, particularly since the reports of other shipments of this fruit are reported on the way to help relieve the shortage of the product.

This has been the cause locally for the market dropping to $6.50 on good stock from a quotation that reached $8.25. The high prices have caused the orchardists to rush their fruit as much as possible. One grower has erected a large frame covered with muslin. He has bedded all of his trees in this enclosure with straw, which retains the heat, and in this way is causing the fruit to ripen much more rapidly than by ordinary means.

The price of grapes has been tumbling and Muscats sold as low as 50 cents a box on very good stock. The market on flour was advanced from 20 to 30 cents, inability to secure grain from the east for blending purposes at a reasonable figure being the chief reason given for the higher quotation.

Poultry also showed an advance of from 1 to 3 cents a pound. Broilers jumped from 17 to 20 cents, dealers paying that price for choice stock yesterday morning. Even roosters and stage were up a cent, 9 cents a pound. The price on eggs came down, case count selling at 33 cents. In the north the quotation was 34½ cents.

PERFECT PLANS TO FINANCE FIGHT

Agricultural League of County
Begins Campaign Against Proposed 8-Hour Law

Steps were taken yesterday afternoon to arrange for the proper financing of the movement to fight the proposed 8-hour law by the Agricultural and Commercial League of Orange County which met at the city hall. John A. McFadden of Tustin is elected to succeed J. C. Metzgar as secretary of the organization after Metzgar had tendered his resignation.

The new secretary was given authority to solicit subscriptions from the various corporations and commercial institutions of the county. He was instructed to solicit funds principally from those organizations which are most interested in the movement to defeat the proposed 8-hour measure, such as the sugar refineries, orange and walnut packing houses and those institutions generally which would suffer the greatest hardship in the event of the passing of the proposed law.

A complete campaign was laid out for the secretary. It includes the mailing of literature to all voters to enlighten them on the workings of the measure in the event of its becoming a law. Plans were also made whereby the secretary will arrange for poll workers on election day. In discussing the matter of raising funds to carry on the work the consensus of opinion was that there would be no difficulty in getting adequate support from all those interested in the over-coming of the proposed law.

On motion of Horace McPhee it was voted that the chairman of the executive committee be given authority to add to the committee persons from outlying districts of the county. The addition of new members to the committee has for its object the greater and more general dissemination of correct information in regard to the law. It was thought that the more people actively interested in the work outside small towns the more effective would become the league's campaign.

On motion of C. C. Chapman it was voted that the chairman be authorized to appoint a sub-executive committee to aid in carrying on the work.

J. Howard Turner, assistant cashier of the Farmers and Merchants' Bank of Santa Ana was elected treasurer of the league.

D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Orange County Fruit Growers Association, Orange, presided at yesterday's meeting. Others present were, vice presidents, Willard Smith, Orange; C. W. Coman, Fullerton; Judge A. H. Stutsman, Tustin; F. B. Case, Santa Ana; G. W. Moore, Wintersburg; Horace McPhee, Santa Ana; Mrs. M. Frank Morse, Placentia; Mrs. John L. Wheeler, Orange, and E. M. Nealley, Tustin.

AUSTRIAN CROWN PRINCE IN THE FIELD

TWO FUMIGATIONS BE NEEDED ON THE YOUNG ORANGE TREES

With the exception of that being done on old orange trees one fumigation will be insufficient to kill this season's black scale. This was the gist of a statement made today by County Horticultural Commissioner Roy K. Bishop.

"Owing to the cool, foggy weather which has so far prevailed the black scale was never more active and never more plentiful than this year," said Bishop.

"Fumigation began August 10 this year. Generally it begins September 1. The early development of the scale this year was right in line with the early development of all fruits."

"There are now no less than 24 fumigating outfits at work in this county, using about 750 tents. The fumigators have all their work promised for the next six weeks. In passing it might be well to say that the black scale is unusually active not alone in Orange county but the same conditions prevail in every other county in Southern California."

"On young orange trees growers will find that if they fumigate now they will have to fumigate their trees again late in the fall or early in the winter. The reason for this is that, owing to weather conditions, all the 'bugs' are not yet hatched."

"Fumigation is killing the black scale on the older trees now because of the fact that the insects do not find the food on the old trees that they do on the younger. It is possible for the 'bugs' to grow to full development in four months' time on watermelon vines or on any plants where the scale has plenty of nourishment. On apricot trees, for instance, the scale hatches only one brood and that in the spring; this is caused by the lack of food on the 'cot' trees."

"If we get as much hot weather in September this year as we did last the growers will find that 90 per cent of the scale will be killed by the heat alone. Hot weather helps matters wonderfully, as can be readily understood when it is taken into consideration that good fumigation kills about 99 and nine-tenths per cent of scale."

"The formula they are using now is 1 ounce to 100 cubic feet of potassium cyanide or three-fourths of an ounce to 100 cubic feet of sodium cyanide. The sodium formula is the only one used at present."

"The black scale is equally plentiful in all sections of the county. There are practically no sections where more scale can be found than in others. The 'bugs' are about equally distributed. There are some orchards in the county that are thoroughly clean but they were fumigated late last fall."

BOY SAVES P. E. FROM BAD WRECK

Garden Grove News: On Monday, W. H. Cason, motorman of the Pacific Electric Railway, came to the News office in search of some boy whose name he did not know, but who was wanted by the high officials of the company, for prompt and heroic action in reporting a broken rail and preventing a wreck. The motorman said that he was waiting at Garden Grove, on the evening of August 1, for orders to pull out, when a young boy ran up and told him that there was a broken rail at a point about a third of a mile below the station toward Santa Ana. A car was about due from Santa Ana and it required quick work to get to the break ahead of the schedule. The section man was called and the rail replaced. It was broken in such a manner that it would seemingly have been impossible for a car going at full speed to have passed safely over.

In the excitement and rush the boy disappeared and the officials were anxious to get his name. Cason took a half day off and came here. The News succeeded in locating the boy with the help of J. M. Clark. He is James Caulfield, who lives near the Baptist Church. He was riding with his father on one of the good roads hauling wagons when his sharp eye caught the defect in the rail near the crossing. His prompt action is appreciated by the company.

Mr. Brigham of Long Beach bought 80 acres of Milford Land

Read this letter to his friend J.J. Brown Long Beach

The following letter is unsolicited praise about the Milford Valley irrigated lands from a recent purchaser. The letter rings with frankness and truth. It is a calm, unbiased description of conditions as they exist today in Milford Valley.

Milford, Utah, Aug. 5th, 1914.

Mr. J. J. Brown,
532 Esther St.,
Long Beach, Cal.

Dear Mr. Brown:

I told you when I left Long Beach that I was going to stop at Milford and look at the Milford valley lands and would write you the result of my investigations. I arrived here day before yesterday and there was already a party of ten Imperial Valley farmers, with one man from Ventura and two from San Dimas, and as they were representative farmers and fruit growers, I had the advantage of their judgment.

Milford lies in a valley surrounded by mountains on the Salt Lake railroad and the town has about 1700 or 1800 people. The railroad company has shops here and employs a good number of men. Surrounding Milford valley is quite an extensive mining district and an extremely large range of cattle and sheep. This being a government range and extending on the east to the Colorado line and on the south to the Arizona line. I am informed that there are about a million and a half sheep and in the neighborhood of 200,000 cattle on it. This should provide a good market for everything the farmer can raise for the future and this is all the more true because there are only 15,000 acres watered by the project, with little likelihood of any more being added.

The company building this project built the Bitter Root project in Montana, the Delta project above here and have invested several million dollars of their own money. They are not promoting, but have put their own money into building the system and wait twelve years for their money for water rights. They are regarded as honorable men and are not real estate promoters. The irrigation system which I visited yesterday consists of a dam with a concrete core 70 feet high, 350 feet thick and 1500 feet long, being built in a gap in the mountains and am informed that it holds 27,000 acre feet. It is built in the strongest way that I could imagine a dam being built. The canals and laterals are all finished and the new farmers are now watering their land. The land watered by the system lies from 1 1/2 to 8 miles south of Milford and is composed of a red limestone loam. Wells dug forty feet show only soil all the way. In my opinion the land is as good as any land in the west and the climate ideal, as good as Colorado or California, and I do not know of any more healthy place than this. The drinking water is found at a depth of about 40 to 60 feet and is clear and cold. The irrigation system provides clear, pure water for the irrigation.

I visited Minerville, which lies directly south of the land and which has been under cultivation for forty years, and I saw as good alfalfa fields as I have ever seen. They were taking the second cutting, the shocks were so close together that I should think the second cutting would go easily two tons to the acre. They say the first cutting is a little heavier, about two and a half tons, and the third cutting should easily be two tons. I would think it safe to figure six tons to the acre for alfalfa. I was in a field of oats that were up to my shoulders and they should go nearly 100 bushels to the acre. Wheat that would run from 40 to 60 bushels is everywhere on the tract, in fact there is not one field of oats, wheat or alfalfa that is not first class. There is no spotted land.

Some practical fruit men were here from Ventura and San Dimas and together we visited the orchards. The trees are breaking down with apples and I saw pear trees that would grow 5 boxes to the tree. I saw the best plum trees that I ever saw, cherries both sweet and sour, all kinds of berries and as good gardens as you ever saw in California.

Of course you will know from the above description that I have appreciated the opportunity to get land at $30 an acre that I am morally sure will be worth not less than $200 to $250 inside of two or three years, and I bought 80 acres and have asked them to hold the 160 adjoining me until you can come up and see it. Out of the party of ten from Imperial, Ventura and San Dimas but one did not buy and he was not financially able to handle it. This shows what practical, well-to-do farmers think of it also. I would advise you to come up here right away quick and look at this 160 adjoining me, because I consider it extremely choice and I would not imagine that it will be here very long considering the number of buyers coming all the time.

They tell me they have an excursion coming up about Saturday and if you could possibly come on that excursion I would advise you to do it.

I am leaving today for Denver to arrange my affairs there and will come back and get my land in cultivation and would be glad to have you for a neighbor. I am

Yours very truly,
CHAS. A. BRIGHAM.

War War WAR

Seal Beach

War in Europe is disturbing peace, hampering commerce and making unstable values which have long been established. In America and particularly California the situation is very much different. Here, values were never firmer, here general business never was on a more permanent basis. Here real estate finds no cause for shrinkage in value. Especially is that the case in beach property, with the thousands upon thousands of people coming here next year, and every one without one exception will visit the beaches and a very large percentage looking for beach homes. Beach property is getting scarcer every year. The ones who buy now are sure to take a profit next year.
